01 / TUNAL GROUP × EMRE DOĞAN

Tunal Group, confidence to move forward

The collaboration, through the fighter's eyes.

Emre discovered Tunal Group through a professional athlete he knew who was already working with the team. That introduction led to a collaboration, with Tunal taking over his management. The quality of its events and the achievements of the athletes it supports give him confidence in the project. He wants to build on this relationship to work towards the highest level, one step at a time. His own commitment centres on daily work: improving, winning his bouts and preparing for more demanding challenges.

02 / THE STORY

Finding his path through boxing

Born in Kadıköy, Istanbul, Emre grew up in a close neighbourhood culture. As a child, he played football and already wanted a life centred on combat sports. He took them up at seventeen, then turned to boxing at twenty.

He recalls times during childhood when he did not feel free to express all his energy. Boxing became a physical and mental outlet. His determination rests on a simple conviction: keep working until he reaches his goal.

03 / THE JOURNEY

Putting all his energy into boxing

After achieving results in several combat sports, Emre chose to focus entirely on boxing. He competes at middleweight with an orthodox stance. People around him call him "Black Panther", a nickname that reflects the fast, agile style he wants to develop in the ring.

He currently trains independently and intends to continue with a coach. He also runs a fitness gym that offers boxing training and classes. His ambition combines sporting progress with fair play: to be remembered as an intelligent, disciplined and respectful boxer.

HIS AMBITION

Progress towards the highest levels with Tunal Group while remaining an intelligent, agile, disciplined and respectful boxer.
